Rathdrum Area Chamber of Commerce Monthly Luncheon

This month's luncheon, tomorrow at the Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church from 12:00pm to 1:00pm, is going to be very informative.

The featured business of the month is Golden Spike Estates. Located at 8480 W Yosemite in Rathdrum, it is an active adult 55+ senior community that provides a safe and cost effective lifestyle for retired adults.

The featured speakers this month are Chamber President Joan Genter and Jobs Plus President Gynii Abracosa Gilliam and the topic is Understanding Urban Renewal Districts (URD's).

If you sent in your R.S.V.P. before this past Monday March 14th you have lunch waiting for you. You can still attend this informative meeting sans lunch.

St Patrick's Day

It's time to get your Irish on and feast to the memory of the patron saint of Ireland, Saint Patrick. If you are interested in learning more about the Feast of Saint Patrick I would invite you to check out the wikipedia article at https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Saint_Patrick's_Day

A Big Thank You to the Patrons of Lakeland Jt. School District!

On behalf of the staff of the Lakeland Jt. School District I would like to take a moment to acknowledge the unwavering support we have received from our patrons. Due to your support, we are able to provide a high quality education to every student who walks through our doors. The concept of small, neighborhood schools allows our teachers, principals, and staff to get to know our students on a personal level. Strong, positive relationships are the foundation on which academic success is built. We greatly appreciate your continuing commitment to our district and our students. Thank you for getting out to vote yesterday and your ongoing support of the important work we do. We are proud to serve this wonderful community!

Sincerely,

Lisa Sexton
Assistant Superintendent

How do you get your event added to our community calendar? It's simple, and it doesn't cost anything! Just send an email to Editor@RathdrumWeeklyNews.com with what, when (date and time), where, cost (if any), and contact or R.S.V.P. information and we will get it posted!

In order to make the next weeks newsletter, we need to have your calendar information to our office by this coming Friday.

If your event is listed, and something changes, please let us know as soon as you can so we can help to get the word out.

Give Your Investment Portfolio a “Spring Cleaning”

Now that spring has officially sprung, you might look around your home and decide it's time for some sprucing up. But you don't have to confine your efforts to your house and yard - you can also engage in a little “spring cleaning” in your investment portfolio.

Here are a few suggestions for doing just that:

- “Dust off” your investment strategy. Dusting is a big part of spring cleaning. Light fixtures, shelves, windowsills - they can all acquire layers of dust and grime that need to be whisked away. And if you've left your investment strategy unexamined for a long period, it too may need to be “dusted off” and re-evaluated. Over time, your financial goals, family situation and even risk tolerance can change, so it's a good idea to review your overall strategy to make sure it's still appropriate for your needs.

- Get rid of “clutter.” Once you start tidying up your house, you might be surprised at all the “duplicates” you find - a broom in a bedroom, another broom in the laundry room, a third in the garage, and so on. Just as you probably don't need multiple brooms, so you may find that you have many versions of the same type of investment in your portfolio. If you own too many of the same investment, and a market downturn affects that particular asset, your portfolio could take a big hit. You may be better off by selling some of the too-similar investments and using the proceeds to diversify your holdings. (However, while diversification can reduce the impact of volatility on your portfolio, it can't guarantee profits or protect against loss.)

- Remove “stains” on your portfolio. As you clean your carpets and furniture, you might notice some stains that should be removed. And when you look through your portfolio, you might find some “stains” in the form of chronically underperforming investments.

Instead of holding on to these vehicles with the hope that they will eventually turn around, you might consider selling them and using the proceeds to purchase new investments, which can help fill any gaps you may have in your holdings.

- Consolidate your accounts. Have you ever discovered a stapler in one drawer, a roll of tape in the linen closet and a bunch of marking pens on your desk? All these items may be useful, but for the sake of efficiency (and to cut down on frustrating searches), you might want to consolidate them in one place. And you could do something similar with your investments. Specifically, if you have some stocks here, a couple of certificates of deposits there, and some IRAs at still another place, you might consider consolidating them with one financial services provider. With all your investments in one place, you could possibly reduce the fees and paperwork associated with maintaining your accounts. And when you eventually start taking withdrawals from your IRA and 401(k), you may find it easier to calculate these required distributions if they're coming from just one place. But just as importantly, when you consolidate your investments with one provider, you may find it easier to follow a single, unified investment strategy.

So, there you have them - some spring-cleaning ideas to help you update and energize your investment portfolio. And you won't even need a dustpan.

Pistol Prof's Perspective

by Russell S. Spriggs

Today's Target Tip: Trigger Press

"Slowly, squeeze the trigger." Or, "Pull the trigger. It should come as a surprise when the gun goes off."

Generations of civilians, military, and police have heard those commands on the firing line. Tens of thousands have heard those same words from well-intentioned backyard mentors. Today, you will learn how that leads to poor marksmanship!

Our remarkable brain interprets the mental picture provided, transmits the perceived order to the appropriate body parts, and is then stymied when the expected result is not achieved. In this case, it usually means bullet holes to the three or nine o'clock position, instead of to the bullseye. It is entirely possible - even probable - that an underlying cause can be found in your actual grip on the gun. While this is easy to correct in person, it is unfortunately difficult to describe in this column. What we can correct right here is our verbiage, and how that is misdirecting your brain!

Go ahead and make a fist. Yup, right now. OK, now "squeeze" or clench the fist. See how the directed angle of the fist changes? If your fore (trigger) finger is above / outside the fist, a pull or squeeze command from the brain will shift the angle of impact. Now, tell the finger to "press" the trigger, like a button. See how the first knuckle remains straight, and the movement is only at the second knuckle? Your point of impact will be much closer to your point of aim.

Change your words, and change your score! See you in class.
